Grain Entrapment: A Life-Threatening Risk in Seconds

Did you know grain entrapment can occur in just a few seconds? Tragically, many individuals who become trapped in grain do not survive.

Grain in motion is dangerous because it acts like quicksand, quickly pulling victims down. And once trapped in grain, escaping on your own is impossible. Grain entrapments are a risk wherever grain is stored, including trucks, bins, and piles.

So, what's the best way to stay safe around grain? By keeping out of it.

Remember to monitor stored grain to ensure it is in good condition and keep children and unauthorized individuals away from grain hazards. By having a plan to BeGrainSafe, we can help ensure the safety of everyone on our farms.
