Learn How to BeGrainSafe

Are you interested in improving grain safety on your farm? Looking to educate your employees about the risks associated with grain handling and storage? Or maybe you'd like to arrange grain rescue training for your local fire department to help keep your community safe? When it comes to grain safety, the BeGrainSafe program is here to help!

BeGrainSafe, an initiative of the Canadian Agricultural Safety Association, was developed in response to a rise in grain entrapment fatalities. Since 2017, the BeGrainSafe program has provided valuable safety information and resources to Canadian farming communities, aiming to prevent grain entrapments and save lives.

While grain entrapments often have tragic outcomes, they are also preventable. Through training and building awareness about the hazards of grain, we can work together to prevent grain entrapment fatalities.
