PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT

Grain Safety Starts With Awareness

Whether you're looking to improve safe work practices with grain on your farm, train your workers about the hazards of working around grain, or bring grain rescue training to your local fire department, the BeGrainSafe program can help.

Developed by the Canadian Agricultural Safety Association, the BeGrainSafe program was created to address the growing number of grain entrapment fatalities across Canada. Since 2017, the program has provided farmers, farm workers, and first responders with practical training and safety resources to help prevent grain entrapments and save lives.

Grain entrapments can have devastating consequences, but they are also preventable. By increasing awareness about grain hazards, we can work together to eliminate grain entrapment tragedies.
