

Kids FarmSafe Week

May 11–17, 2026

Contact: Abigail Fehr, CASA Communications
comms@casa-acsa.ca

PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT

Safe Entertainment for Kids on the Farm

Farms offer endless opportunities for kids to explore, learn, and have fun. But it's important to remember that farms are active workplaces, and not every area is a safe place to play.

Children need clear boundaries so they know where it's okay to have fun and where it isn't, such as around machinery, livestock, and busy work areas. Even familiar spaces can become hazardous when work is underway, so supervision is key at all times.

It's also important to help guide kids on safe ways to have fun on the farm. What may seem like a harmless adventure can quickly become dangerous without the right precautions.

A little planning goes a long way in turning the farm into a place where fun and safety grow side by side.

This year marks the third annual Kids FarmSafe Week, focusing on Nurturing the Future of Agriculture. Learn more and get safety tips at www.kidsfarmsafe.ca.